

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences.  15 Adam's Roman Antiquities . . . Edin. 1792
 16 Adams's Sermons and Tracts . . . Shrews. 1777

Dr. Adams, Master of Pembroke College, Oxford. His answer to David Hume is strong and decisive, but written in the spirit of mildness. The great infidel was sensible of this, and had the candor to acknowledge that "Dr. Adams had treated him better than he deserved."

- 17 Adam's Latin Dictionary
 18 Adams's Laws of Epidemics . . . Lond. 1809
 19 Adrianus de Sermone Latino . . . Lugd. 1548

 25 Æschylus, Schutz, 3 vol. Hal. 1801
 26 Æschylus, Bothe, LARGE PAPER . . . Leips. 1805
 27 Æschylus, Porson, LARGE PAPER, 2 vol. Glas. 1806

One of the very few copies uninjured by stain.

- 28 Æschyli Prometheus, Blomfield . . . Cant. 1812

The plan of the learned critic is as judicious as it is useful. The completion of the work is much to be desired.

 54 Almanach Impérial pour 1813 . . . Paris.
 Almanach Royal pour 1814 . . . Paris.

These two Almanacs are very scarce. They prove what sudden and important changes revolutions produce in a few weeks.

- 55 Almanach du Voyageur . . . Paris, 1786
 56 Alvari Grammatica Latina . . . Antw. 1680
 57 Alvari Regulæ de Quantitate . . . Lond. 1730

With the three plates.

- 72 Anacreon, Barnes Lond. 1734
 73 Anacreon, Greek and English, Addison Lond. 1735
 74 Anacreon, Trapp, Latin Verse Lond. 1742
 75 Anacreon, in usum Scholæ Salford. Lond. 1754
 76 Anacreon, Brunck, editio maxima et tertia Argent. 1786

Morocco.—“ Cette édition est plus correcte, et un peu plus ample pour les notes.” B.

- 77 Anacreon, Brunck, editio maxima et tertia Argent. 1786
 78 Anacreon, cum Amadusii Epistola Parm. 1791

Perhaps the most beautiful production of the Parma Press.

- 79 Anacreon, Degen Erlang. 1780
 80 Anacreon, Fischer Leips. 1793
 81 Anacreon, Sappho, &c. by E. B. G. Lond. 1768

These Translations display an original genius. The author's Latin poetry is very inferior to the rest. This book is scarce. I never saw it before.

- 82 Anacreon, by Moore, 2 vol. Lond. 1802
 83 Anacreon, Forster, LARGE PAPER Lond. 1802
 84 Anacreon, Bothe Leips. 1805

- 126 Appiani Historia, Schweighæuser, 3 vol. in 6 Leips. 1785
- 127 Aratus, à Buhle, 2 vol. . . . Leips. 1793
- “La plus ample et la meilleure de toutes les éditions, tant pour le texte d’Aratus que pour les Scholies de Théocrite, les Fragmens de Germanicus, et toutes les diverses parties de l’ouvrage. Dans le second volume est un important recueil de variétés, tirées de divers MSS. de la bibliothèque de Vicare.”—Renouard.
- 128 Archilochi Reliquiæ. Charta optima . . . Leips. 1812
- 130 Arrianus, à Trincavelo . . . Ven. 1535
- 131 Aristophanes, Junta . . . Flor. 1515
- 132 Aristophanes, Gr. et Lat. cum notis Scaligeri Lugd. 1624
- Brunet calls this a “jolie édition.” It is rendered valuable by the notes of Scaliger. It should contain the Fragments, in fifty-six pages.
Many copies want these.
- 133 Aristophanes, cum notis, Gr. et Lat. 2 vol. in 1
Amst. 1670
- 134 Aristophanes, par Sivry, 4 vol. . . . Paris. 1790

137 Aristophanica, Porson, à Dobree, LARGE PAPER 1820

Mr. Dobree was a native of Guernsey, Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, and Greek Professor in that University. He enjoyed the friendship of Porson; and in critical sagacity, and profound and accurate skill in the Greek language, was inferior to him alone. Dobreus, as his name is Latinised, had communications with the first scholars on the Continent. He was making preparations for some important classical editions, but intense application to study brought him to the grave at an early age. Some of his critical observations are collecting by his learned successor, Mr. Scholefield.

 423 Butler's Praxis of Latin Prepositions . . Lond. 1823
 424 Butler's, Sermons on Christian Liberty . . Shr. 1811

As a scholar and a divine, theoretical and practical, Archdeacon Butler ranks among the first characters in this country. His edition of Æschylus proves the depth of his learning, the soundness of his judgment, and the accuracy of his taste; and his classical and geographical publications are eminently beneficial to the rising generations. In his Sermon on Christian Liberty, and similar works, he has proved himself to be an able divine, and a disinterested defender of Christian liberality. The expression of sentiments in favor of Catholic Emancipation has shut the gates of preferment against some sincere and zealous friends of the Church. We respect those who disinterestedly differ from us; but conscience would not permit us to change. "What is a man profited, if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

ler's Sermons L

- Elegantly bound.

- With beautiful plates, elegantly bound.

1. M. J. L.

- This is the richest treasury in the world of authors, editions, and of the subjects which they contain. A person who is fortunate enough to possess these volumes will wonder how it was possible for a literary man to exist as a reader or writer without them. See a curious and full account of this extraordinary production in Dr. Dibdin's Library Companion, p. xix.

- 580 Bibliotheca Literaria . . . Lond. 1722
 581 Bibliotheca Politica, LARGE PAPER . . . Lond. 1718

Very scarce, as it is too expensive to be reprinted. This work contains the fullest and clearest account of the transactions and debates relative to the Revolution.

- 582 Bibliothèque Orientale d'Herbelot, 4 vol. . . Haye, 1777
 583 Bibliographical Miscellanies . . . Oxon. 1813

Only 104 copies printed.

- 584 Bischoff, Cadmus . . . Jena, 1708

 587 Bligh's Narrative of the Bounty . . . Lond. 1790
 588 Boccacii Genealogia Deorum . . . Venet. 1472

First edition. This splendid and matchless copy, sumptuously bound, was sold at the Roxburgh sale for 16l. 16s.

- 589 Boileau, Œuvres de, 2 vols. . . . Amst. 1718
 590 Bolland's Miracles Camb. 1798

Mr. Baron Bolland is distinguished for skill and taste in polite literature. He obtained at Cambridge every prize for which he wrote. So general is his knowledge, that he is versed in every thing that can form the subject of judicial inquiry.

 660 Cornelius Nepos, De Viris Illustribus, . . . s. l. s. a.

This very ancient edition of Sextus Aurelius Victor, De Viris Illustri-bus Urbis Romæ, is printed without a date and without the name of printer or of place. This work was sometimes, as here, attributed to Cornelius Nepos, and sometimes to Suetonius. This is a most rare edition, with curious wood-cuts.

 RIIS LECTIONIBUS, NOTITIIS LITERARIIS,
 ET INDICIBUS LOCUPLETISSIMIS, 142 vol.
 LARGE PAPER, in boards . . . Lond. Variis Annis

Perhaps the most important part of this edition is the complete collection of various readings, brought up to the present time. This great undertaking is now brought to a conclusion. The most approved Text of each author is printed, accompanied by the Delphin and Variorum Notes, Various Readings, and copious Indexes. Drakenborch's Notes to Livy, Brotier's Supplement to Tacitus, Arntzenius's Notes to the Panegyrici Veteres, Heyne's Excursus to Virgil, &c. are included in this edition. "It is," says Dr. Dibdin, "THE BEST OCTAVO SET OF THE LATIN CLASSICS EXTANT."—E.

 765 Divines of the Church of England, Hughes, 22 vol.
 Lond. 1831

This collection of some of our best Divines is rendered most interesting by a life prefixed to each, by Mr. Hughes, late Fellow of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, and Christian Advocate in that University, in a short, but comprehensive manner, and in a style elegant and luminous. The learned editor has enriched this edition with a summary of each sermon, affording to the reader a clear and judicious abstract, and to the preacher a useful skeleton, covered in general with the nerves and sinews of the subject.

 Euripidis Hecuba, English notes, Major Lond. 1830

Mr. Major was early distinguished for a memory so vivid and comprehensive, that he could write a correct copy of a sermon or speech which he heard once delivered. At Trinity College, Cambridge, he signalised himself as a classical scholar; and, as a candidate for the medal, he was considered as deserving what the French colleges and academies call the First Accessit. Of his critical accuracy he has shown a proof in this and other Plays of Euripides. He was one of the editors of the London Greek Thesaurus of Stephens, and of the last edition of Scapula. He became Master of Wisbech school; he lost that of Norwich, against the powerful testimonials in favour of Mr. Kidd, by the casting vote only. He is now Master of the Classical School in King's College, London.

875 Euripidis Troades, Burges, LARGE PAPER Cant. 1807

Mr. Burges published this edition at nineteen years of age. No man is more familiar with the Greek language. In the Plays which he has edited, he is ingenious, and often happy in his conjectural emendations ; but he is sometimes like him who, instead of displaying all the uses and beauties of his house by a slight repair, pulls it down, and builds a new edifice not exactly in the same style of architecture.

After a life employed in the active, beneficial, and honorable pursuits of the highest branches of his profession, Mr. Forster is spending the evening of his days in forming plans for the relief of indigence, and for the public utility: at the same time, he is far from being inattentive to the promotion of religious knowledge and practice; he is often publishing works like those in the present volumes, distinguished by great research, ingenuity, and piety, for the gratification and edification of his friends and neighbours.

- Had Mr. Grant copied his "Institutes" from the ancient grammarians of our country, those authors, Lilly, Ruddiman, Busby, &c., could not have brought an action against him for piracy. But to appropriate and to attribute to himself the labors of his contemporaries, is, to say the least, not very honorable. What part of this publication others may claim, I know not; but all the rules in verse, and many in prose, are taken verbatim from my Grammar, without the slightest notice.

religious fanaticism. He asserted that, like St. Paul, he was caught up to Heaven, and that, by his ardent and effectual prayers, he had put an

 1231 Etymologicon Magnum Græcum, Sylbergii Leips. 1816
 1232 Faber's Origin of Pagan Idolatry, 3 vol. Lond. 1797

This is an important work, full of antiquarian research and theological learning. Mr. Faber has, in other works, followed the plan of Newton, from whom he differs in many particulars, in his endeavors to assign probable dates to the Prophecies yet unfulfilled. He has conducted his inquiries with a proper sense of the awfulness of the subject, not disregarding the advice of the wise man—"Search not into the things that are above thy strength."—Sors tua mortalitatis; non est mortale quod optas.

- 1276 BIBLIOTHECA SUSSEXIANA, by Pettigrew,
 2 vol. . . . Lond. 1827

Some crowned heads and princes have made magnificent collections of books, but none of them were so fully conversant with their contents as the Duke of Sussex, and no man possesses a more correct taste, a more sound judgment, or a greater variety of knowledge. His Royal Highness is not only familiar with the modern languages of Europe, but is skilled in the Classics and in Hebrew. His library is copiously stored with superb editions of the Classics, and with the best historians of every country. But his collection of the Holy Scriptures, in every language, is unrivalled in number, in utility, and in splendor. Of this inestimable collection, and of the illustrious collector, I would say more, did I not wish to make a reference to a delectable bibliographical jewel—The Bibliophobia—which is now sparkling on the table of every man of taste, and which does ampler justice to both. The facetious author has drawn largely on his playful fancy, in representing me as the possessor of all the most sumptuous and rare editions of the Classics. To make the acquisition was indeed my desire; but eleven weighty reasons presented an insurmountable obstacle, and must in a great degree disappoint the extravagant expectations raised by my excellent and ingenious friend.

 1411 Junius, Letters of, by Woodfall, 3 vol. . . . Lond. 1814

After all the conjectures on that celebrated writer, it seems far from improbable, by analogy, that Hugh Boyd was the author. In a periodical publication called the Freeholder, he wrote some papers, characterised by that spirit, strength, and boldness, which distinguish the letters of Junius. Other circumstances corroborate this suggestion. The late Arthur Young, who knew him well, said he was a man of wonderful talents and of most extensive information.

 1425 Juvenalis et Persius, Hawkey, LARGE PAPER Dubl. 1746

A very correct edition. Hawkey's editions of the Classics reflect the greatest credit on the Dublin press. Elegantly bound.

- 1426 Juvenalis, Ruperti, 2 vol. LARGE PAPER Leips. 1801.

Elegantly bound in morocco; uncut. Of this splendid edition, on large paper, very few copies found their way into this country. This copy would not have appeared in this Catalogue, had I not wished to rescue the memory of my respected friend, Mr. Annesley, (who bequeathed it to me,) from an undeserved stigma cast on his reputation in an article entitled "Clavering's Autobiography," in the Metropolitan Magazine. Mr. Annesley was one of the most upright and honorable characters that ever trod the boards of society. A man who was chosen in the most independent manner as a Member for the borough of Reading, the scene of frequent political and religious differences, and retained that high situation during thirty-two years, must have had a strong claim to public approbation. His family considered themselves as heirs to the Downing estate; and he received a poor, though perhaps a necessary, compromise, in being appointed the first Master of Downing College.

These volumes were edited by Lord Sheffield, who, on account of his decisive Treatise on the Commerce of the American States, and of his commercial knowledge and general usefulness, was raised by Lord

Sidmouth from an Irish to an English peerage. A writer in the Metropolitan Magazine, who styles himself Clavering, has endeavored to detract from the merit of the noble Viscount, by representing this promotion as an act of family expedience. No man has displayed more integrity and disinterestedness than Lord Sidmouth. It is sufficient to refer to his firm refusal, in opposition to his parliamentary interest, to increase the burdens of his country, by a second grant to a certain nobleman, after the liberal and generous conduct of the government to his father.

 1528 Gray's Works, by Mitford, 2 vol. . . Lond. 1816

Mr. Mitford is eminently qualified by his learning and critical sagacity for the labors of the commentator, and the skill and learning of an author. His library consists of the most curious and scarce volumes, illustrated by the MSS. notes of the most celebrated writers, which prove the richness of his taste and the extent of his researches. It is perhaps hypercritical to observe that Gray, in his elegant Latin verses, has admitted an Anglicism at the beginning of an ode, "O Tu."

 1702* Milman's Fazio Lond.

As a poet and a writer Mr. Milman has displayed the greatest genius and talents. At Oxford, he obtained all the prizes in verse and prose which the University could bestow, and was elected Fellow of Brasenose College. His poetical eminence raised him to the Professorship of Poetry. As a Divine, he deserves the highest commendation for his Visitation Sermon at Reading, and for his Bampton Lectures, both distinguished for sound orthodox principles of Christianity.

His History of the Jews is a most interesting work, written in a style of uncommon elegance and dignity. It has been the subject of much discussion, not unmixed with severe animadversion. His plan was, to write, not the theological, but the civil and military history of a people devoted to persecution, and to consider what rank they held in the general history of mankind. Mr. Milman is known by all who have heard his public sermons and private conversation, to feel and to express the firmest belief and deepest veneration for the miracles recorded in the Bible; and even in those passages which have been subjected to the most violent invective, the candid reader will observe, that though the secondary causes have been traced, wherever they appeared discoverable, the primary agent was by no means excluded. Mr. Milman's principles will no doubt be fully expressed and satisfactorily explained, to every unprejudiced mind, in a work in which he is said to be engaged—The History of the Christian Church.

These poems are, in general, a specimen of the best modern Latin poetry. But the writers were not always exact in the composition of the third verse of the Alcaic stanza, which does not admit a quadrisyllable or two dissyllables at the beginning or at the end. They are not scrupulous enough in placing a word beginning with sc, sp, sq, st, after a word ending with a short vowel. Horace has indeed two instances of the former, but not in the third book, which is the most correct of his works; and of the latter, in his verses Sermoni propiora.

On the foundation of the Caxton of his age, the learned Bowyer, his worthy successor, the late venerable J. Nichols, had raised the first story of this immense structure : a fire levelled it with the ground—

Incendia lumen

Præbebant ; aliquisq; malo fuit usus in illo.

A more splendid edifice arose from the ruins, which gives a most extensive view of the authors and works of the last century. His son has, with kindred qualifications, completed this great monument of historical research and judicious industry.

1785 Nicholls's Recollections of George III., 2 vol. Lond. 1820

One of the most impartial works ever published in political history.
Mr. Nicholls reviews with severity softened by candor the notes and opinions of others, and frankly confesses that he was mistaken in some of his own.

 1828 Horapollinis Hierogl. et Hephæstion Traj. 1727
 1829 Homeri Opera, à Barnes, 4 vol. . . . Cant. 1711

This copy brought 71. 7s. at Lord Trevor's sale. Dr. Barnes spent his whole fortune on this publication; and this edition will maintain its distinction, not merely from its magnificence and the erudition of the editor, but from the complete Greek scholia subjoined to it. Harwood. —Clarke and Heyne are very particularly indebted to this edition.

- 1830 Homeri Opera, 2 vol. in 1. Elsevir . . . Amst. 1656

This beautiful edition, printed by the Elzevirs, is in great request. It is very correct, as are all the Elzevir editions. The scholia renders it useful and scarce. The price in France is from 36 to 50 frs. A copy in blue morocco sold for 109 frs.

- 1831 Horatius, Philippi Lavagnia, fine copy Milan, 1477

6l. 16s. 6d. From Thorpe's very reduced prices. 1826.—Panzer could never have seen it, as he has erroneously copied the date of the month in the colophon. He seems to have merely transcribed from Maittaire and Saxius. The same printer published his first edition in 1476, but it is not so correct as this. Panzer mentions another edition of the same printer in 1478, but it is by Philip Conda Petri, at Venice. See Bibl. Spencer. vol. ii. p. 80—83.

- 1832 Horatius, Landini Flor. 1482

Fine copy.

- 1863 Isocrates and Lysias, Auger, 5 vol., LARGE
 PAPER, . . . Paris, 1782

Auger was an elegant scholar, and an industrious editor. His Latin translation of Isocrates and Lysias is far preferable to those of his predecessor. His French translations are chaste and faithful. Of this edition of Isocrates, 100 copies were printed on Annonay 4to. paper. It has sold for 108 frs. This is one of the finest copies.

- 1864 Isocrates, Alcidas, Gorgias, Aristides, Har-pocration, Aldi, 2 vol. in 1 . Ven. 1534

This edition is highly esteemed. "L'exécution," says De Bure, "en est fort belle." Harpocration is not in the former edition. Sir Mark Sykes's copy, of inferior quality, sold for 2l. 2s.

- 1865 Josephi Opera, Froben, FIRST EDITION Basil. 1544

Editio Princeps, printed by Froben. This volume is beautiful and rare.—Dibdin. This is one of the noblest and most venerable old books I ever saw.—Harwood.

- 1866 Josephi Opera, Hudson, 2 vol., LARGE PAPER,
Oxon. 1720

Damaged by a worm at the beginning and end of the first volume.

- 1867 Josephi Opera, Weidmann . . . Col. 1691

Great attention and expense were employed in this edition by the spirited Weidmann. The Prolegomena are chiefly by Stagijs, who was conversant in Jewish antiquities.

1868 Josephus de Bello Judaico, Latine redditus, à Ruffino

Ven. 1497

This edition contains a translation corrected from that of 1480, and is a very superior book.

1869 Junii Etymologicon Anglicum . . . Oxon. 1743

1870 Justinus, Florus, et Rufus, Petit . . . Paris, s. a.

This book is noted in Panzer's Annals, vol. viii. p. 211. It is without date, but Petit died in 1542.

 1939 Origines, by Sir W. Drummond, 4 vol. Lond. 1824, &c.

Sir William Drummond was a man of profound classical and oriental knowledge, and of uncommon talents. He who reads this work attentively, will be struck with the rich display which it exhibits of critical skill, of deep research into the history, antiquities, and literature of Eastern nations, and their relations to general arts and sciences, written in a correct, elegant, and dignified style. Of a splendid work of his, of which a small number of copies was printed, but not published, "the less is said, the better;" it does not therefore appear in this Catalogue. His translation of Persius equals in spirit, and in clearness sometimes improves, the original. His poem, Odin, contains many sublime and admirable passages on the immortality of the soul, which will make the reader exclaim, O si sic omnia!

1974 Parriana, by Barker, 2 vol. . . . Lond. 1829

Mr. Barker is one of the Editors of the London Greek Thesaurus; and in profound knowledge of the Greek language is little inferior to him, of whom he has given in these volumes important accounts and pleasing anecdotes. He is most fertile and indefatigable in tracing various meanings of words, in finding parallel passages, in verifying quotations, discovering authorities, and detecting errors.

 2199 Catalogue de la Bibliothèque d'un Amateur,
 (M. Renouard,) 4 vol. Paris, 1819
- This is the most critical and elegant Catalogue ever published by a collector. M. Renouard is a man of the deepest knowledge of books. He was not originally a bookseller. A nobleman, who had a splendid library, and wanted a copy of a very rare and magnificent book, was informed that it had been bought by a tradesman of Paris. "Then," said he, "the book will be mine; for I will make an offer which no tradesman can refuse." He was introduced to the possessor, who was Renouard. When he saw his library, and discovered his taste and learning, he dropped the idea of bribery, and said, "Sir, I called on you to solicit the honour of your acquaintance."

Dr. Hawes was one of the founders of this Society in 1774; he was enthusiastically devoted to the cause of humanity. His son, the present treasurer, follows him in the same career; and employs his talents and his time in promoting the interests not only of the Society, but of every institution that has for its object the good of mankind.

2207 Huntingford's, Bishop, Sermons, 2 vol. . . . Lond. 1795

The late Bishop of Hereford was not surpassed as a scholar and divine. These Sermons are a proof of the piety of the author. His Monostrophica demonstrated his deep knowledge of the Greek language, and produced a discussion between him and Dr. Burney, which threw new light on Greek metres. His laborious exertions for his brother's family form a bright article in the annals of disinterested beneficence. To the friendship and candor of this venerable scholar and divine, I am indebted for some valuable suggestions in my classical and theological publications.

 2442 Mémoires de l'Académie des Inscriptions et Belles Lettres, 50 vol. . . Paris, 1730, &c.

A complete set, uniformly and elegantly bound.

- 2443 Merrick's Psalms . . . Read. 1765

This is the best poetical translation of the Psalms in our language.
 It unites simplicity with elegance.

 2448 Middleton's Life of Cicero, 2 vol. . . Lond. 1741
 2449 Milton's Paradise Lost . . . Lond. 1668

This is the first edition. It was printed in 1667 ; but the dates were marked 1667, 1668, 1669, in order to give it the appearance of a great circulation. Milton sold the copyright in 1667 for 5*l.* : he was to receive the same sum for the second edition, which appeared in 1674, in 8vo. in twelve books, by a division of the seventh and tenth.

- 2450 Milton's Paradise Lost, Latin, by Dobson Oxf. 1750
 2451 Missale Romanum, MS. . . .

In fresh and beautiful condition. Every page is encadred by a luxuriant border. The inscription is in the Gothic character ; and the graphic embellishments are numerous. Amongst them is one, which represents Joseph in the act of boiling an egg, while Mary is nursing the infant Jesus at the breast.

- 2452 Miscellanea Græcorum Carmina, cum versione
 Latina, Maïttaire . . . Lond. 1722

2453 More's Utopia, by Dibdin, LARGE PAPER Lond. 1808

2454 Molière, Œuvres de, 6 vol. . Paris, 1734

Dublin, 1801

2461 Munckeri Pandæsia Grammatica . . . Lond. 1662

2462 Musæus, Moschus, and Bion, Whitford Lond. 1659

Two fine plates. "On recherche cette édition à cause de la version en vers Latins de David Whitford."—Brunet.

2463 Navis Stultifera, Brant . . . Bas. 1506

This edition is not surpassed in beauty by any other. It contains a complete manuscript account of all the editions of this work in every language. It is circumstantially noticed among the Latin impressions, and referred to in the year 1506. Mr. Greswell, in his Annals of Parisian Typography, describes this as a singular volume; it belonged to the library of the late W. Roscoe, Esq.

 2483 Orford's, Lord, Letters to Mr. Montague Lond. 1818
 Orford's, Lord, Letters to the Rev. W. Cole, Lond. 1818
 2484 Ovidius, Burmanni, 4 vol. . . . Amst. 1727

L' une des meilleures parmi les éditions en 4to. cum notis variorum.
 Celle-ci est surtout remarquable par l' étendue de son index, très minutieusement fait, et par cela même réellement utile.—Renouard.

- 2485 Ovidii Métamorphoses, Delphin . . . Dublin, 1729
 2486 Ovidii Metamorphoses, Latin and French,
 Banier, 4 vol. plates . . . Paris, 1767

Finely bound. Dans cette collection de gravures quelques unes sont beaucoup plus agréables que celles de l' en folio.

- 2487 Ovidii Fasti, Latin and French, Bayeux, 4 vol. Paris, 1783

Folio.

- 2488 Monumenta Patavina . . . Patav. 1652
 2489 Montaigne, Essais de, . . . 1630

Cette édition est fort améliorée, et a été suivie dans toutes celles qui ont paru jusqu' à celle de Coste. M. de Gournay, qui en est l'éditeur, y a mis une nouvelle préface, meilleure que la première, et qui, selon Bayle, vaut la peine d'être lue.—Brunet.

- 2490 Montfaucon, Palæographia . . . Paris, 1708

Cette exemplaire est enrichi des notes MSS. du savant Halhed, l'auteur de la Grammaire de la Langue Sanscrite et du Bengale.

- 2491 Nizolii Thesaurus Ciceronianus, et Ærarium, 2 vol.

Francf. 1613

- 2492 Nostradamus, Prophecies . . . Lond. 1672

- 2493 Novum Testamentum, Græcum et Latinum, Erasmi

Basil. 1516

First edition. Remarkably fine copy, splendidly bound in blue morocco, with gilt and marbled leaves, by Clarke. Première édition, elle est rare et recherchée. Le registre et la souscription sur le dernier feuillet manquent à plusieurs exemplaires. Le dernier feuillet des Annotations est marqué 672 au lieu de 626.—Brunet. This edition does not contain the seventh verse of 1 John V.

- 2494 Novum Testamentum, Beza . . . Cant. 1642

- 2495 Novum Testamentum, ex Bibliotheca Regia, R.

Stephani . . . Paris, 1550

King James's copy. Belle édition qui peut soutenir la comparaison avec tout ce qui existe de plus beau en ce genre.—Brunet.

- 2496 Novum Testamentum, Millii, à Kuster Leips. 1746

This edition of Mill's Testament has the advantage of the collation of twelve MSS., and of incorporating all the various readings which Mill has inserted in different places.

- 2497 Novum Testamentum, Codex Bezae, Kipling, 2 vol.

Cant. 1793

- 2498 Novum Testamentum, Griesbach, 2 vol. Leips. 1803

With two superb engravings.

- 2499 Novum Testamentum, Millii . Oxon. 1707

Edition très belle; l'édition de 1710 n'est aussi belle ni aussi correcte que celle de 1707. This is undoubtedly the most magnificent edition that ever appeared. Mill finished it only fourteen days before his death, after having bestowed on it the labor of thirty years.—Dibdin. This work was reprinted by Kuster, in 1710, at Amsterdam, and again, with no difference, at Leipsic, in 1723; of which Wetstein says:—"Non solum errata Millii retinuit, sed negligentia typothetarum complura alia, eaque fœdiora, accedere passus est."

- 2500 North Briton, 3 vol. . Lond. 1762, &c.

This complete original edition is extremely scarce.

- 2501 Numismata Imperatorum . . Paris, 1695

Two vol. in one. Brunet dates it 1688 and 1697. Sold at 50 francs, in morocco.

- 2684 Virgilii Opera, Heyne, 6 vol. BEST EDITION,
VELLUM PAPER, fine impressions of the Plates

Leips. 1800

Le Prince des Poètes Latins a trouvé dans Heyne un homme habile, qui a ajouté à ses chefs-d'œuvre une édition que l'on peut regarder comme le chef-d'œuvre des éditions Classiques. Depuis plusieurs années les exemplaires en papier vélin sont presque introuvables.—Renouard.

 2710 Paris, Tableau de, par Mercier, 3 vol. . . Paris, 1808

This is a most curious and sumptuous work. It exhibits the history of that wonderful city, from the earliest to the present times. The elegant Plates, of which this copy contains first impressions, represent the Isle of Paris, when there were, not even as in ancient Rome, "et paucæ pecedæ, et casa rara," but a few wild shrubs only, and follow the progress in regular increase of every Quartier, and of all the public buildings. Of the origin and gradual improvements of the Louvre alone, there are above twelve Plates.

2723 Phalaridis, Apollinarii, et Bruti Epistolæ, Bartholomei,
Ven. 1498

Phalaris. Première et très rare édition.—Renouard. This identical book was purchased for his Majesty, George III., at Dr. Askew's sale, for five guineas and a half. It afterwards, among other duplicates from the Royal Library, came into the hands of the late Mr. Nicol, the bookseller. Very few of the Greek books printed before 1500 are so rare as this. It contains the letters of Apollinarius, Mythridates, and Brutus.

- 2724 Piozzi's Retrospection, 2 vol. . . . Lond. 1801

This work has not been estimated so highly as it deserves. It shows a strong mind. It is easy to trace in it many of the sentiments of Dr. Johnson on men and manners.

- 2766 Scott's, Sir W., Lay of the Last Minstrel Lond. 1805

Sir Walter Scott is a dazzling poetical meteor; he is the father of the class of unmetrical poets. Of that style an instance may be given from Lord Byron:—

“ 'Tis a beautiful star; I love it for
 “ Its brightness.—”

This un-English style, it is hoped, will soon be succeeded by a recurrence to that of Milton, Dryden, Pope, Thomson, Gray, Goldsmith, &c. Sir W. has found, with the rest of the world, that his splendid genius is best adapted to novel-writing. His novels are distinguished by the most dignified style of history, by elegance of taste, and richness of imagination.

- 2825 Voltaire, Œuvres de, par Beaumarchais, 72 vol.

Paris, 1785

A beautiful copy; the best edition; handsomely bound. Of Voltaire I have endeavoured to draw a character: Sermons, vol. I. pp. 51, 52, note. His chief merit consists in his dramatic works. On a cause, apparently trifling, the fate of a writer sometimes depends. On the first representation of his first play, the Œdipe, the house had been repaired and adorned, and a new motto painted on the proscenium,—O. T. P. Q. M. V. D. the initials of Omne Tulit Punctum Qui Miscuit Utile Dulci. Appeal was made to Piron for an explanation. The witty author of the Métromanie whispered, Œdipe, Tragédie Pitoyable, Que Monsieur Voltaire Donne. The play was not suffered to be acted, until the inscription appeared the next day at full length; from this plaisanterie, the world had nearly been deprived of Alzire, Zaïre, Mahomet, and Merope. He who reads only the Zaïre of this extraordinary writer, in which the divinity of Christ, and his death for the sins of man are expressed, will scarcely conceive that he was an arch-infidel.

 2904 Xenophon, Benwell, 2 vol. . . Oxon. 1804

Mr. Benwell early distinguished himself at school for his compositions. At Oxford, where he was Fellow of Trinity College, he obtained every prize in prose and verse. Convinced of his eminent talents and genius, the University unanimously offered him the Professorship of Poetry. Delicacy to a friend who had expressed a wish to obtain it, induced him strenuously to decline the honor; and that friend, after an arduous contest, was defeated. Mr. Benwell's character rose so high in every branch of literature and of clerical exertion, that he was patronised by some persons of eminence and power in the state; and the highest preferment awaited him, when he fell a victim, at an early age, to his charity and humanity—

Arthur Young held in his youth, and in his manhood, sentiments as opposed to one another as the oscillations of the pendulum, in politics and in religion. In his old age he became fair, impartial, and exemplary in both. He was a man of a warm imagination, and of the most unbounded private and public benevolence.

Yorke's Letters from France, 2 vol. . . . Lond. 1804

The incidents in Redhead Yorke's life would make a most interesting history. He was a man of warm imagination, of strong genius, of brilliant talents, but of spirits too high, and social habits too generous, for a weak constitution. His exertions in the service of his friends were unremitted. His patriotic letters in the "Star," under the signature of Galgacus, reminded us of the elegance of Burke, and of the strength of Junius. Mr. Yorke had undertaken to write the Life of Mr. Pitt, in conjunction with Mr. Gifford. He took the historical, and the latter the political part. In the prosecution of the work, Mr. Yorke noticed what he conceived to be errors in the conduct of the Minister, particularly in the management of the war. Mr. Gifford said that nothing but panegyric could be admitted; the whole of the publication therefore devolved upon him.

 3000 Shakespeare, by Boydell, early impression of the

 3001 Shakespeare MSS., by Ireland Lond. 1805

Many scholars versed in English antiquities were believers in the authenticity of the MSS. from which this collection was printed. I compared the writing with an autograph of Shakespeare's in the possession of Albany Wallis, and found it to be perfectly similar. What first created a doubt in my mind was, that the initial letter of Elizabeth, scutched as it was, did not contain the lower horizontal stroke, so that it looked like F. There were some passages in Vortigern and Rowena not unworthy of the great poet; and I never thought W. Ireland, notwithstanding his confession, equal to that composition. That Play might have been well received, had not Mr. Kemble burlesqued his part.

3018 Sallustius, Lat. et Hispanice, Don Gabriel, Madrid, 1772

On sait que cette magnifique édition est un des ouvrages les plus parfaits que l'Espagne ait produit. La typographie fut exécutée aux frais de l'Infante Don Gabriel. Les exemplaires que l'on recherche peu, sont fort aisés à distinguer. Le papier en est fortement azuré, et très mêlé de nuances. Ceux qui sont sur un papier sans azar, sont d'une beauté et d'une égalité parfaite.—Renouard. This copy is a fine impression, on the most beautiful paper : elegantly bound.

3028 Terentius, cum V. Commentariis . Ven. 1512

3029 Terentius, cum IV. Commentariis . Ven. 1499

An edition of extraordinary rarity and curiosity, both from the engravings which ornament it, and as a specimen of a printer almost totally unknown. No mention is made of this volume by Fabricius, Meerman, Laire, Braun, Deburc, Brunet, Clarke, Dibdin, Moss, or Watt; nor does it appear in the Harleian, Vallière, or Pinelli Catalogues, or in those of Askew and Heath. In the whole Spencer collection, there is not a single specimen of this printer, nor can I refer to one in any Catalogue of this country which I have been able to examine. By Panzer alone he is noticed. For a minute account of this interesting volume, taken from the present copy, see Gentleman's Magazine for August, 1825.—P. H.

3030 Terentius, cum Donati et Calpurnii Commentariis,

Only 25 copies of the Travels were printed on this paper, and those for presents only.

- 3045 Valerius Maximus, Vind. de Spira . . . Ven. 1471

This edition bears a higher character than that of the same year by Schoyffer. A splendid copy of it sold for 902 francs at La Vallière's sale, and another for 23l. at Pinelli's; 14l. 14s. Alchorne. Of this copy the first page is illuminated.

- 3046 Valerius Maximus, Vind. de Spira . . . Ven. 1478

A fine copy of the most useful edition of Valerius Maximus.

- 3047 Valerius Maximus, Vind. de Spira . . . Ven. 1478

This edition is a correct copy of that printed at Milan, 1475. It begins, as that does, with a dedicatory epistle from Bonus Accursius.

AN ABRIDGMENT

OF THE

COMMENTARIES

ON THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS.

BY THE REV. T. S. HUGHES, B.D.

OF EMMANUEL COLLEGE; EXAMINING CHAPLAIN TO THE BISHOP OF PETERBOROUGH, AND LATE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE AT CAMBRIDGE.

It has been suggested to MR. VALPY by several Clergymen, that an important service would be rendered to the Religious Public, and more particularly to the Clergy, if an ABRIDGMENT, or rather a CONDENSATION, OF THE PRINCIPAL ENGLISH COMMENTARIES ON THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS, were published in a cheap and commodious form, suitable to the means as well as the wants of the present age. For deeply as the Christian world is indebted to those learned men, whose critical knowlege and laborious researches have enabled them to furnish invaluable Commentaries on the Holy Scriptures, it is much to be regretted that the fruits of their labors remain scattered through a multiplicity of volumes, rarely to be found even in the Libraries of the most wealthy classes; whilst in almost all instances they cannot be procured without also incurring the expense of a costly addition of the Text.

To obviate such difficulties, and facilitate the investigations of those who desire a more perfect knowlege of Scripture, is the object of the present undertaking—the advantages of which will probably appear in a more striking point of view, if we subjoin a list of the Authors whose works it is proposed to condense :—

THE ASSEMBLY,	A. CLARKE,	HAMMOND, WITH LE	M. POOLE,
R. BAXTER,	MR. S. CLARKE,	CLERC'S SUPPLEMENT	A. PURVER,

PLAN.

1. The Work will contain the Notes of the above English Commentators, who have commented on the whole of the Old or New Testament, or both; and these so condensed as to give the substance of every Note briefly, but without being obscure.
2. The Notes of each Commentator will be in alphabetical order, chapter by chapter; so that reference may be directly made to the opinions of any favorite Author.
3. When a Commentary is accompanied by a Paraphrase or by particular Dissertations, such will be referred to at the end of each chapter.
4. At the end of the Work will be given a List of the most celebrated ancient and modern published Sermons, adapted to the same Texts, both in the Old and New Testaments.
5. The Work will commence with the New Testament, and will be printed in Octavo, double columns, to be published in Monthly Numbers, averaging 200 pages, price 5s. 6d. each; and it is presumed the whole will be completed in 30 to 33 Numbers.
6. The New Testament will be complete in itself, to suit any Subscribers who may wish to discontinue it before the whole Work is completed.

Previous to the commencement of so laborious an undertaking, Mr. VALPY is anxious to ascertain the feelings of the Clergy and Religious Families. Should it therefore appear to the Reader of this Prospectus to be a desideratum, Mr. V. will feel obliged by an early intimation of his intention to take the Work, which may be forwarded by Mr. V., or through any agent the Subscriber may name.

No. I. will be published in the Autumn.

With a Biographical Sketch, a Portrait of each Author, Notes, Maps, &c.
Price 4s. 6d. Small 8vo. bound in cloth.

ENGLISH TRANSLATIONS

OF THE

MOST VALUABLE GREEK AND LATIN CLASSICS:

EDITED, PRINTED, AND PUBLISHED, BY A. J. VALPY, M.A.

‘If you desire your son, though no great scholar, to read and reflect, it is your duty to place into his hands the best Translations of the best Classical Authors.’—
DR. PARR.

As the learned languages do not form part of the education of Females, the only access which they have to the valuable stores of antiquity is through the medium of correct translation; and the present Selection is intended to include those Authors only, whose works may be read by the youth of both sexes.

Twenty-nine Numbers are already published, containing the following Authors; which may be purchased separately :

No. I. DEMOSTHENES. LELAND.

II. Completion of Do.; and SALLUST, by ROSE.

III. & IV. XENOPHON'S ANABASIS and CYROPEEDIA, by SPELMAN and COOPER.

V. to VII. HERODOTUS. BELOZ.

VIII. & IX. VIRGIL, by WRANGHAM, SOTHEBY, and DRYDEN.

X. PINDAR; a new Translation, by WHEELWRIGHT. With ANACREON; a new Translation.

XI. to XV. TACITUS. MURPHY.

XVI. THEOPHRASTUS; with 50 Characteristic Engravings.

XVII. & XVIII. HORACE and PHÆDRUS.

XIX. JUVENAL, by Dr. BADHAM; & PERSIUS, by Sir W. DRUMMOND.

XX. XXI. & XXII. THUCYDIDES, by SMITH.

XXIII. to XXIX. PLUTARCH'S LIVES; with Engravings of the Lives recorded.

XXX. will contain a new Translation of HESIOD, by C. ELTON, Esq. also the CASSANDRA of LYCOPHRON, by Lord ROYSTON; with BION, MOSCHUS, MUSÆUS, and SAPPHO.

XXXI. and XXXII. will contain CÆSAR'S COMMENTARIES.

Each Vol. averages 350 pages, and is delivered monthly with the Magazines.

‘From a careful examination of the volumes now before the public, we do not hesitate to declare our conviction that a more important or a more interesting accession than this Library to our national literature has not taken place in modern times. No serious or well-arranged plan has been proposed, before this time, for placing the treasures of the classic writers in the hands of readers who were unacquainted with the original language in which they wrote. How easily such a plan could be accomplished—how admirably it could be executed—with what a well-founded assurance it might be undertaken, of producing good of every kind—solid instruction with the most ennobling delight—the volumes before us are at once the example and the proof. We might praise the elegance and accuracy of the work; but a feature of greater importance than is connected with external merits demands our warmest approbation,—we mean the exclusion of every thing offensive to virgin innocence. Thus, for the first time in the course of ages, all the intellectual splendors of Greece and Rome are opened to the modest contemplation of the gentler sex; and a lady can acknowledge an acquaintance with the treasures of ancient poetry without the smallest compromise of her delicacy.'—Monthly Review.

'We know of no periodical more richly deserving of patronage than the Family Classical Library, and we should esteem it a disgrace to any establishment for the education of either sex, in the library of which, this beautiful edition of the most approved translations of the ancients was not to be found.'—The Bee.

'The translations of many of the ancient authors, who may be looked on as the great storehouse of modern literature, are out of the reach of the English reader; and this publication will render them accessible to all.'—Yorkshire Gazette.

'The idea of this work is perhaps the most felicitous of all those, on which periodical publications of the same class have yet been started.'—Glasgow Free Press.

THEOPHRASTUS, with 60 Engravings.

'A better stage-coach companion, or one for a weary fireside on a wet day, we could not recommend to those who delight in studying the vast varieties of human character.'—Athenæum.

'Every one ought to read the 'Hints on the Individual Varieties of Human Nature,' which are the admirable additions of the present editor. We would gladly make extracts from this volume, did we not hope that some weight would be attached to our earnest recommendation of the work itself. The Classical Library, so edited and conducted, will find a place in every family of which the head is anxious for the well-being of its members.'—Atlas.

PLUTARCH'S LIVES.

Menage says, if all the books in the world were in the fire, there is not one which he would so eagerly snatch from the flames as Plutarch. That author never tires him; he reads him often, and always finds new beauties.

'Who, that reads at all, has not read Plutarch? and who, that has read him, does not return to him again and again with renewed delight? Plutarch is the idol of the school-boy, the pocket-companion of the lonely shepherd on the hill-side, and the friend and monitor of the warrior and statesman; and it is difficult to say which of these very dissimilar classes of readers profits most largely by his perusal.'—Western Luminary.

HORACE.

In No. XVIII. Translations of different parts of HORACE are introduced from the pens of the following Poets:

Addison—Atterbury, Bp.—Badham, C.—Beattie, F.—Beaumont, Sir J.—Bentley, Dr.—Bernal, R.—Byron, Lord—Carter, Elizabeth—Chatterton—Congreve, W.—Cowley—Cowper—Creech—Croly—Dryden—Evelyn—Hastings, Warren—Herbert, Hon. W.—Hobhouse, Sir J. Cam—Hunt, Leigh—Johnson, Dr.—Jonson, Ben—Joy, H. Hall—Lyttleton, Lord—Merivale, J.—Milton—Montgomery, Robert—Otway—Pope—Porson—Barry Cornwall—Roscommon, Earl of—Rowe, N.—Sidney, Sir P.—Swift, Dean—Wakefield, Gilbert—Warton, J.—Warton, T.—Wrangham, &c. &c.

ANTHOLOGIA SACRA;

Or, ELECT THEOLOGICAL EXTRACTS;

On subjects Doctrinal, Practical, and Experimental;

Selected and arranged by the Rev. B. GILPIN, M.A. Rector of St. Andrew's, Hertford; and W. H. VALPY, Esq. Royal 8vo. 24s. bds.

'This is almost the only book of religious extracts, with which we are acquainted, that deserves a decided and unqualified recommendation. The work does not claim to be denominated 'A System of Theology,' though in our opinion it deserves that distinction better than many of loftier pretensions. We feel no hesitation in saying, that to the divinity student, the minister of a congregation, or the father of a family, it cannot fail to be both acceptable and useful.'—Pulpit, No. 476.

'This volume the head of every family ought to have for his household: it contains choice and useful passages from the works of the most illustrious Divines, on the faith and practice of Christians; it tells us how such men as Sherlock and Taylor, and Stillingfleet, and Cudworth, and Tillotson, and Leighton, and other burning and shining lights, felt, thought, and acted.'—Athenæum.

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE GREEK AND LATIN CLASSICS,

WITH ENGLISH NOTES, QUESTIONS, &c.

AT the desire of many Schoolmasters, Mr. VALPY is publishing a SERIES of such GREEK AUTHORS as are read in the upper Classes of Schools and in Colleges. The best Texts are adopted, and the CRITICAL and EXPLANATORY NOTES are presented in a more accessible form than those of Latin Commentators, by avoiding that profuseness of annotation which frequently anticipates the ingenuity, supersedes the industry, and consequently retards the improvement of the pupil. EXAMINATION QUESTIONS, adapted to the points discussed in the Notes, and INDEXES, are also added.

'Things are now ordered better; there are English-Greek Grammars, English-Greek Lexicons, and now English Notes and explanations. Among literary individuals, Mr. Valpy led the way in this goodly task. His Series of Classics for School and College are meritorious; and in our opinion, and as far as we have seen, are better managed than any similar undertaking now on foot.'—Spectator.

'Young students, in whose hands these editions of School and College Classics shall be placed, before they have been troubled with any others, can hardly be made to understand the deep obligations which they owe to Mr. Valpy, who has thus so materially lightened and abridged the difficulties, that have so long beset this department of liberal education. Besides that in general the best texts are adopted, they are printed in a clear and handsome type, and are accompanied by English Notes, in which sometimes the various readings are mentioned, and, occasionally, difficult passages are either translated, or so fully explained as to render them easily intelligible. Indeed, no one who has not learned Greek without the facilities which Mr. Valpy has now supplied, can conceive the great advantages which they will afford for the acquisition of that language to the rising generations.'—Monthly Review.

THE FOLLOWING ARE ALREADY PUBLISHED :

Greek.

EURIPIDES.—HECUBA.

By the Rev. J. R. MAJOR, Trin. Coll., Camb., and Head Master of King's College School, London. Second Edition. 5s.

'This is, beyond all comparison, the best student's edition of a Greek Play, which has ever been given to the public.'—Literary Chronicle.

MEDEA, PHENISSÆ, and ORESTES.

By the Same. 5s. each.

'This (Orestes) is one of the admirable series of the School and College Greek Classics, and well worthy of its place. The Questions are judicious; and he who correctly answers them, must have accurately read his author.'—Spectator.

The four Plays may be had together in one Vol. Price 20s.

SOPHOCLES.—ŒDIPUS TYRANNUS.

By the Rev. J. BRASSE, D.D. late Fellow of Trin. Coll., Camb. 5s.

'The very useful illustrations given of all the difficult passages are well adapted to remove many of the obstacles which usually stand in the way of a young Greek Scholar.'—Monthly Review.

ŒDIPUS COLONEUS, ANTIGONE, and TRACHINIÆ.

By the Same. 5s. each.

'This (Œdipus Coloneus) is one of a series of improved School Books. We need not say that this Work is edited in a most instructive and satisfactory form, for Dr. Brasse is evidently a masterly Grecian.'—Gent. Mag.

The four Plays may be had together in one Vol. Price 20s.

THUCYDIDES.

By the Rev. S. T. BLOOMFIELD, D.D. F.S.A. of Sidney Coll., Camb., and Vicar of Bisbrooke, Rutland. 3 Vols. 11. 7s. bds.

'The best praise that we can bestow on the Notes, is, that they form a valuable commentary, by which a careful student may acquire a clear and lasting acquaintance with the style and meaning of Thucydides. We can safely say that the Notes have highly gratified us, and that we have read with pleasure the Examination Questions, which are acute and useful; and the Greek and English Indices are digested with great care. At School and College the work will be welcome.'—Atlas.

'This edition is intended for the use of Schools, but will be found available to students of all ages. The Notes are useful and explanatory, and not encumbered with that pedantic ostentation of learning, in which it has been so long the fashion of our ablest commentators to indulge.'—Sum.

'The valuable annotations of Dr. Bloomfield are a sufficient recommendation of themselves to insure the ready reception of this edition.'—Literary Gazette.

XENOPHON.—ANABASIS.

By F. C. BELFOUR, M.A. Oxon. F.R.A.S. LL.D. 8s. 6d. bds.

'This edition has been published for Schools and Colleges; and we have no hesitation in saying that it is, for such a purpose, superior to any other in existence. Much useful information is perspicuously conveyed in the Notes.'—Spectator.

XENOPHON.—CYROPÆDIA.

By E. H. BARKER, Esq. 9s. 6d. bds.

'We have the Questions and Indices according to the plan of the excellent Series of School and College Classics, for which the student owes a deep obligation to the publisher.'—Atlas.

DEMOSTHENES.

Oratio Philippica I.; Olynthiaca I. II. et III.; de Pace; Æschines contra Demosthenem; Demosthenes de Corona.

By the Same. 8s. 6d. bds.

'This is a very useful book for the classical student. The finest Orations of the great Athenian orator are selected and illustrated by copious English Notes. The young aspirant after classical celebrity will find his progress greatly assisted by the work before us. The Examination Questions are a valuable addition. This is certainly a very excellent school-book.'—Athenæum.

'Its chief recommendation is a copious Index, a judicious table of Examination Questions, and, above all, numerous Notes, in which the student is not perplexed with critical pedantry, but informed by explanatory matter.'—Court Journal.

HERODOTUS,

In Two Volumes, containing the CONTINUOUS HISTORY ALONE of the Persian Wars.

By the Rev. C. W. STOCKER, D.D. Vice Principal of St. Alban's Hall, Oxford, and late Principal of Elizabeth College, Guernsey. Price 18s.—Vol. II. may be purchased by those who possess Vol. I., at 8s. 6d.

'We do not recollect the whole range of the Classics being brought to bear more effectively on the illustration of an author and of each other, than they are made to do under the expansive mind of Dr. Stocker.'—Literary Gazette.

'This is not merely the best, but also the only, edition of Herodotus adapted for schools. The licentious anecdotes have been removed without injuring the continuity of the narrative, and students may read the original account, and escape the impurities by which they were previously liable to be disgusted or depraved. The Notes are selected with care and labor, and concentrated with great ability. The Questions are calculated to awaken the attention of the negligent.'—Athenæum.

'The Arguments and Notes are in our own language, and we observe that those passages, which have hitherto prevented this most entertaining historian from being familiarly introduced to school-boys, have been most judiciously omitted.'—Monthly Review.

ÆSCHYLUS.—PROMETHEUS.

With Notes, critical and explanatory, original and selected; and Examination Questions. 5s. By G. BURGESS, M.A. Trin. Coll., Camb.

PLATO.—FOUR DIALOGUES:

CRITO, GREATER HIPPIAS, SECOND ALCIBIADES, and SISYPHUS;

With English Notes, original and selected. In this edition BEKKER's text is adopted, and the whole of the valuable Notes of Heindorf and others translated. Price 9s. 6d.

'It is owing to the erudition and research of the Editor, that these Dialogues may now be pronounced no longer a sealed book, which none but great scholars could ever hope even imperfectly to understand.'—New Monthly Mag., May, 1832.

Latin.

LIVY.—BOOKS I. TO V.

With English Notes. By D. B. HICKIE, LL.D. Head Master of Hawkshead Grammar School. 8s. 6d.

CICERO.—DE OFFICIIS;

With Critical and Explanatory Notes. The Text of the Heusingers is followed. Third Ed. 6s. bds.

'To students the present edition will prove particularly acceptable; considerable information and much useful elucidation will be found in the adscititious matter; and the student will be thus benefited without any augmentation of labor.'—Crit. Rev.

CICERO.—DE AMICITIA ET DE SENECTUTE,

From the Text of ERNESTI; with all his Notes, and citations from his INDEX LATIN. CICERON., and much original matter, critical and explanatory. By E. H. BARKER, Trin. Coll., Camb. Fourth Edition. 4s. 6d. bds.

'It is indeed a publication which contains multum in parvo; and the classical student will find in it no small store of useful philological erudition.'—Crit. Rev.

CICERO.—TWELVE SELECT ORATIONS.

From the Text of JO. CASP. ORELLIUS. With English Notes. By the Editor of VIRGIL and CICERO'S OFFICES with English Notes. 7s. 6d.

TACITUS.—GERMANY AND AGRICOLA,

From BROTER'S and PASSOW'S Text; with Notes and Emendations, and Critical Remarks. By E. H. BARKER, Trin. Coll., Camb. Fourth Edition. 5s. 6d.

'This is a valuable addition to the number of our School Books. The Editor has given ample proof of his various reading in his Notes.'—Crit. Rev.

CÆSAR'S COMMENTARIES. DE BELLO GALLICO.

With Engravings. By the Same. Price 6s. 6d.

'This is a very useful edition of Cæsar on the Gallic War. Mr. Barker has collected much valuable information, and condensed a mass of knowledge, which cannot fail to be of great advantage to the classical student.'—Athenæum.

ABRIDGED INTO ENGLISH.

FOR COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS.

By the Rev. J. SEAGER, Author of 'Critical Observations on Classical Authors,' and several Greek Criticisms in the Classical Journal.

VIGER.—ON THE GREEK IDIOMS.

Translated into English, and abridged. 8vo. 9s. 6d. bds.

'The publication before us is well fitted to carry students still farther into the recondite parts of that majestic language, and to display to them much of that interesting mechanism which escapes the uninstructed eye. We, therefore, gladly lend our assistance in so rational an attempt as that which is here undertaken; and observe with pleasure that, in conformity with the improved spirit of the age, Mr. Valpy's List of New School Books contains several others on the same plan.'—Lond. Mag.

'This volume is compiled with much industry and judgment; and altogether a more valuable service could not well have been rendered to the inquiring student of the classics.'—Oxford Literary Gazette.

'But when they have made real advances in Greek prose, read over with them the whole of Vigerus. Mr. Berry, what I now recommend is really one of the most useful parts of education. You should make them read Vigerus in this way twice every year for five or six or seven years.'—Dr. PARR.

HOOGEVEEN.—On the GREEK PARTICLES.

On the same Plan. 8vo. 7s. 6d. bds.

'Hoogeveen on Particles has always been considered a valuable aid in the study of Greek; and Mr. Seager has compressed and translated it in a manner which we could not desire to be better.'—Spectator.

BOS.—On the GREEK ELLIPSES.

On the same Plan. 8vo. 9s. 6d. bds.

'Mr. Seager has contrived to retain the essence of all that is beneficial to the student, while he has placed it more easily within his reach by the order into which it is reduced.'—Intelligence.

'We have no hesitation in recommending this book to the teachers of Greek, as the best Dictionary of Elliptical Expressions to which they can resort.'—Edinburgh Literary Journal.

'Bos, Hoogeveen, and Viger, are works of valuable criticism.'—Bickersteth's Christian Student.

HERMANN.—On the GREEK METRES.

On the same Plan. 8vo. 8s. 6d. bds.

'My hero is Hermann: he is not only a scholar, but a philosopher of the highest order; and he smiles probably, as I do, at the petty criticisms of puny scholars, who in fact do not understand what is written by this great critic.'—Dr. PARR.

MAITTAIRE.—On the GREEK DIALECTS.

On the same Plan. 8vo. 9s. 6d. bds.

'It is impossible to speak too highly of the fidelity of the translation or the skill of the abridgment. It is enriched by some modest Notes, and more original matter than careless readers will perhaps credit.'—Atlas.

'This volume completes Mr. Seager's epitomising labors. With Viger, Hoogeveen, Bos, and Hermann, the Greek Student has a set of scarcely dispensable subsidia, at all events in a more accessible form than before. Mr. Seager has labored zealously, and must be allowed to have deserved well of Greek literature.'—New Monthly Mag.

'This is an important and serviceable School and College Book.'—Gentleman's Magazine.

In consequence of recent applications, it has been determined to commence a New Monthly Subscription of the

OCTAVO EDITION OF THE DELPHIN CLASSICS;
 WITH THE VARIORUM NOTES.

EDITED AND PRINTED BY A. J. VALPY, M.A.

The DELPHIN, BIPONT, and VARIORUM CLASSICS are rendered comparatively needless by this comprehensive edition, in which is incorporated, for the first time, the substance of the three; and the value of the Series is particularly enhanced by the Various Readings contained in all the principal editions of each Author.

The Price is £1. 1s. each Part; Large Paper, double. Very few copies are printed beyond the first Subscription, which amounted to 983 large and small. The whole forms 141 Parts.

The best Text is used, and not that of the Delphin.—The best Indices are adopted, and carefully collated with the Text. The reference is made to the Book and Chapter, so that the same Index will apply to all other Editions. The Bipont Literaria Notitia, continued to the present time, is added to each Author.

Each Part averages 672 pages. The Work cannot be had in separate Authors, but as a whole Series.

. Few copies are left; and as such a voluminous Work can never perhaps be reprinted, early applications should be made for the remaining Sets. If more convenient, Mr. V. would issue two Nos. monthly, till the Set is completed.

Any Persons having incomplete copies are requested to make immediate application for the Nos. wanting, as the price will be raised from time to time.

STEPHENS' GREEK THESAURUS.

The copies of some deceased Subscribers may be had at 1l. 5s. each Part Small, and 2l. 12s. 6d. Large Paper. Any persons having incomplete copies are requested to make application for the Numbers wanting, as the price has already been raised on such Parts in suspense, and will be further raised from time to time. Mr. Valpy has less than twelve copies in his possession, which may be had complete; or in Parts to be delivered monthly, should it best suit the purchaser. The Work is comprised in 30 Parts, the original Subscription to which was 1086, large and small.

Third Edition, with Parallel References and other Improvements,
3 vols. 8vo. 2l. 5s. bds.

GREEK TESTAMENT, WITH ENGLISH NOTES;

Containing Critical, Philological, and Explanatory Notes in English, from the most eminent Critics and Interpreters: with Parallel Passages from the Classics, and with references to Vigerus for Idioms, and Bos for Ellipses. To which is prefixed a short Treatise on the Doctrines of the Greek Article, according to Bishop Middleton, Mr. Granville Sharp, &c. briefly and compendiously explained, as applicable to the Criticism of the New Testament. The VARIOUS READINGS are recorded under the text. Greek and English Indexes are added at the end. By E. VALPY, B.D.

Two Plates are added, one illustrative of the Travels of the Apostles, and the other a Map of Judea and a Plan of the City and Temple of Jerusalem.

This Work is intended for the use of Students in Divinity, as well as the Library.

'This Greek Testament is the most valuable of any that has yet been published with critical and philological apparatus, especially for students who wish to purchase only ONE Edition.'—Horne's Introduction to the Bible.

'This Greek Testament with English Notes is a valuable accession to the aids of the undergraduates, the divinity student, and even the theologian. It is preceded by a very able summary of the important doctrine of the Greek Article,—a field on which Socinianism, with all its affected display of erudition, has been so signally foiled, on which the true meaning of Holy Writ has acquired so much lustre, and the weapons of biblical difficulty have been wrested from the hands of infidel objectors, and turned against those who wielded them. We cordially recommend it to our readers; and those who wish to purchase only one comprehensive copy of the Greek Testament, and that not very expensive, will find in this edition the very object of their search.'—Christian Remembrancer.

'We have examined several of the Notes, and can speak with confidence of the editor's taste and judgment, knowledge and research. Pertinent matter has been collected with great care; and throughout the work the object of the editor has been to set before his readers useful information from every available source, not to display his own ingenuity by fanciful and recondite interpretations, or to make a parade of his learning by frequent and elaborate and unnecessary quotations. The young divine will find this work not only a safe guide in his studies, but the best which he can obtain within the compass of the same price and size.'—Classical Journal.

'The Greek Testament, with the annotations which the Editor's extensive knowledge and indefatigable industry have supplied in the illustration of the text, is a work which should form a part of the collection of every theological student and reader, and is one for which Mr. Valpy deserves to be ranked among the benefactors of his age.'—Spectator.

Second Edition, in one thick vol. 8vo. 1l. 1s.

GREEK SEPTUAGINT, WITH THE APOCRYPHA;

Edited by A. J. VALPY, from the Oxford Edition of Bos and Holmes.

This Edition is handsomely printed in one volume, 8vo. hot-pressed. FOR USE IN CHURCHES AND CHAPELS, as well as the Library.

'This elegantly executed volume is very correctly printed, and (which cannot but recommend it to students in preference to the incorrect Cambridge and Amsterdam reprints of the Vatican text) its price is so reasonable as to place it within the reach of almost every one.'—Horne's Introduction to the Bible.

• • • The Septuagint and Testament may be had in four uniform volumes.

This edition has been printed for the use of students attending COLLEGE CHAPELS, and for GREEK CLASSES in SCHOOLS, as it has been long considered one of the most useful and ready expedients for keeping up the knowledge of Greek, more particularly after the Student has quitted his scholastic duties.

Second Edition. 18s. bds.

GREEK GRADUS,

OR,

GREEK, LATIN, and ENGLISH PROSODIAL LEXICON:

By the Rev. J. BRASSE, D.D. late Fellow of Trin. Coll., Camb.

It has been the object to present, in a comprehensive form, a Manual, containing the interpretation, in Latin and English, of such words as occur in the principal Greek Poets;—the quantity of each syllable actually or virtually marked;—an authority quoted for the existence and quantity of each word in those writers;—and those terms set down as synonymous which appear to bear a similitude in sense to the principal word. The Works of the Greek Poets have been diligently examined, and such epithets and phrases annexed to each principal word as are of legitimate usage, and seem best calculated to embellish Greek composition.

‘The indefatigable application required in the compilation of the Greek Gradus is manifest; and we recommend the work as supplying a desideratum in our School Books, and likely to be advantageously used to a very wide extent.’—Lit. Chron.

SCHREVELIUS' GREEK AND ENGLISH LEXICON,

With many new words added. Second Edition, improved and enlarged. To which is added a copious ENGLISH and GREEK LEXICON, intended to assist the learner in Greek composition. In one Vol. 8vo. Pr. 16s. bds. or 17s. bound.

By the Rev. J. R. MAJOR, Head Master of King's College School, London.

The present Edition of SCHREVELIUS' Lexicon, which has for so long a period facilitated the labors, and promoted the knowledge, of Greek Students, comes recommended to the notice of the juvenile reader by having the explanations in our own tongue. The plan of introducing into School Books plain English for bald Latin, in the interpretations of Greek words, has within these few years been sanctioned by many most respectable teachers of youth, and we trust that this plan, useful alike to the instructor and the pupil, will be universally adopted.

ROBINSON'S ANTIQUITIES OF GREECE;

Being an Account of the Manners and Customs of the Greeks, designed to illustrate the GREEK CLASSICS, by explaining Words and Phrases according to the Rites and Customs to which they refer. To which are prefixed, a brief History of the Grecian States, and Biographical Sketches of the principal Greek Writers. Archbishop PORTER, LAKEMACHER, and BOS, contain nothing which is not in this Edition, which has also much useful matter not to be found in those works. The Second Edition, considerably enlarged and improved, and illustrated with Plates. 17s. bds.

The classical authorities, which, in the former edition, were incorporated with the text, are placed at the foot of each page. This, it is expected, will be found an improvement, inasmuch as it will render the book more uniform, as well as more easy to the student, by obviating the difficulties which a frequent recurrence to the authorities must necessarily occasion, and by preventing his attention from being drawn to them rather than directed to the subject-matter itself. At the same time, he can notice the authorities with at least as much facility as if they had been placed at the end of the passages to which they refer; and, if requisite, they will still enable him to consult the authors themselves, to whom the references are given.

DAMNII LEXICON GRECUM.

*Etymologicum et Reale, cui pro basi subiacent sunt Concordantie et Etymologicones HOMERICÆ; cura J. M. DUSCLES. Uniformly printed with the EASTERTON HANDBOOK, in two thick vols. 8vo. Pr. 1*l.* 4*s.* Large Paper, 1*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.

That portion of Damm's Lexicon which is devoted to the elucidation of Pindar has already appeared in a separate form as an Appendix to Mr. Huntington's valuable edition of that poet: and it has been suggested to the publishers of the new edition of the complete Lexicon, that they would do an acceptable service to literature, by a separate publication of the large division of their author, which is devoted to the Iliad and Odyssey. There are many scholars also who devote themselves with peculiar attachment to the study of Homer's writings, and who being possessed of Erasmii's or other octavo editions of that poet, would willingly render them complete by Damm's Lexicon, of a corresponding size. So furnished, their Homeric Library may be said to want nothing.

TIMEI LEXICON VOCUM PLATONICARUM,

*Edidit et Animadversionibus illustravit D. RICHARDUS. 8vo. 4*s.* 6*d.* sew.*

SCHOLIA IN PLATONEM,

*Collata ad Codices optimos ab ILM. BEKKERO. 8vo. 3*s.* 6*d.* sew.*

NOVUM TESTAMENTUM, GRÆCÆ,

*Recognovit atque insignioris Lectionum Varietatis et Argumentorum Notationes subiunxit G. C. KNAPPUS. Cr. 8vo. large type. Pr. 6*s.* 8*d.* or 6*s.* 6*d.* bound.*

Latin.

*A new Edition, with considerable additions, alterations and corrections.
Price 15*s.* royal 8vo. bound.*

DICTIONARY OF LATIN PHRASES;

Comprehending a methodical digest of phrases from the best authors, which have been collected in all phraseological works hitherto published; for the more speedy progress of students in Latin Composition. By W. ROBERTSON, A.M. of Cambridge. For the use of the Middle and Upper Classes of Schools.

* * The present Edition has this advantage over its predecessors, that it is enriched with many hundred phrases which have hitherto been unrecorded; and these have been drawn from the purest fountains, by actual perusal; from Cicero, Tacitus, Terence, Plautus, &c.

'The valuable assistance which it will afford to the student and school-boy in Latin Composition can scarcely fail to obtain for it a distinguished place in the list of School Books.'—Class. Journ.

'If the work in its 'first estate' was a favorite treatise at our schools, it can have nothing to fear in its renovated form, where its barbarisms have been expunged, and some thousand phrases, drawn from the purest sources, have been added. We shall merely observe that it is an excellent key to Latin Composition.'—Literary Chronicle.

Third Edition, Price 7s. 6d. bound.

GRADUS AD PARNASSUM.

The Verses and Phrases are omitted ; and the English of the words is given, with their formation. Many new words are added, and other Improvements.

The present Edition is printed at the suggestion of several Schoolmasters, who have long objected to the old Gradus, as being greatly injurious to the progress of rising genius. It is only necessary to refer to the sentiments of Dr. Vicesimus KNOX on the old Gradus to establish the utility of the present plan.

DELPHIN VIRGIL, HEYNE'S TEXT,

With all the DELPHIN NOTES: no Interpretatio. Second Edition, 8vo. 8s. 6d.

DELPHIN CÆSAR, OBERLIN'S TEXT;

On the same plan. Many Plates. Second Edition. 8vo. 8s. 6d.

DELPHIN JUVENAL and PERSIUS,

On the same plan. 8vo. 7s.

DELPHIN SALLUST,

On the same plan. 8vo. 4s. 6d.

. At the suggestion of many Schoolmasters Mr. Valpy has published the above DELPHIN SCHOOL BOOKS on this new plan, and should ANY difficulty occur in procuring them through the regular channel, he will supply them.

JUVENAL AND PERSIUS; no Notes.

By A. J. VALPY, M.A. Duod. 3s. 6d.

VIRGIL; WITHOUT NOTES.

By A. J. VALPY, M.A. 18mo. 3s. 6d.

VALPY'S EDITION OF VIRGIL, WITH ENGLISH NOTES,

Original, and selected from the Delphin and other editions. No Interpretatio.
Sixth Edition. 7s. 6d. 18mo.

'The body of Notes forming the Appendix constitutes an excellent commentary upon Virgil, and must prove of peculiar benefit to the pupil in clearing up difficulties of the sense or the metre. But these explanatory Notes are of still farther utility, as tending to lead juvenile minds into a train of inquiry that will expand their ideas and facilitate their progress in classical literature. The Notes of Voss in particular contribute highly to enrich the present impression.'—New Monthly Magazine.

SHAKSPEARE,

WITH THE 165 ENGRAVINGS OF BOYDELL,
FOR £3. 15s. WHICH ORIGINALLY COST £95. LARGE PAPER £190.

A NEW AND IMPROVED EDITION OF THE PLAYS OF

SHAKSPEARE;

WITH 165 ILLUSTRATIONS, A NEW LIFE, AND FULL GLOSSARIAL NOTES.

EDITED BY A. J. VALPY, M.A., LATE FELLOW OF PEMB. COLL., OXFORD.

IN FIFTEEN MONTHLY VOLUMES, 5s. EACH,

UNIFORMLY WITH THE NEW EDITIONS OF BYRON AND SCOTT.

NUMEROUS and varied as are the forms in which the Dramatic Works of SHAKSPEARE have appeared, it will be readily acknowledged that an improved edition, printed in the same form as the most popular productions of the present day, is still a desideratum.

In addition to the many advantages offered in this edition, it will be embellished with ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-FIVE ILLUSTRATIONS, on Steel, designed from the Plates in BOYDELL'S SHAKSPEARE, which was originally published at £95. and large paper £190; THE WHOLE OF WHICH will now be published at £3. 15s., and in a more convenient size.

GLOSSARIAL NOTES on all obsolete words will be placed at the bottom of the page; and a short HISTORICAL SKETCH prefixed to each Play. An Index to the most admired passages, on all subjects, will be given at the end, forming a complete reference to the BEAUTIES OF SHAKSPEARE.

The plan of POPE will be adopted throughout the work, who marked in his Edition all the passages with inverted commas that were considered the most striking and brilliant; so that the young reader would at once have his attention directed to the greatest beauties of the Author.

This arrangement will render the present edition equal to any yet published; while the style of the Letter-press and the Illustrations, the convenience and portability of the form adopted, and the moderate terms on which it may be purchased, will merit the approbation of every admirer of Shakspeare.

The publication will commence in the Autumn, and will be delivered in 15 volumes at 5s. each, bound in cloth, with the Magazines.

Volume I. will contain the Tempest, Two Gentlemen of Verona, Twelfth Night, and a beautiful line engraving of the Author on steel.

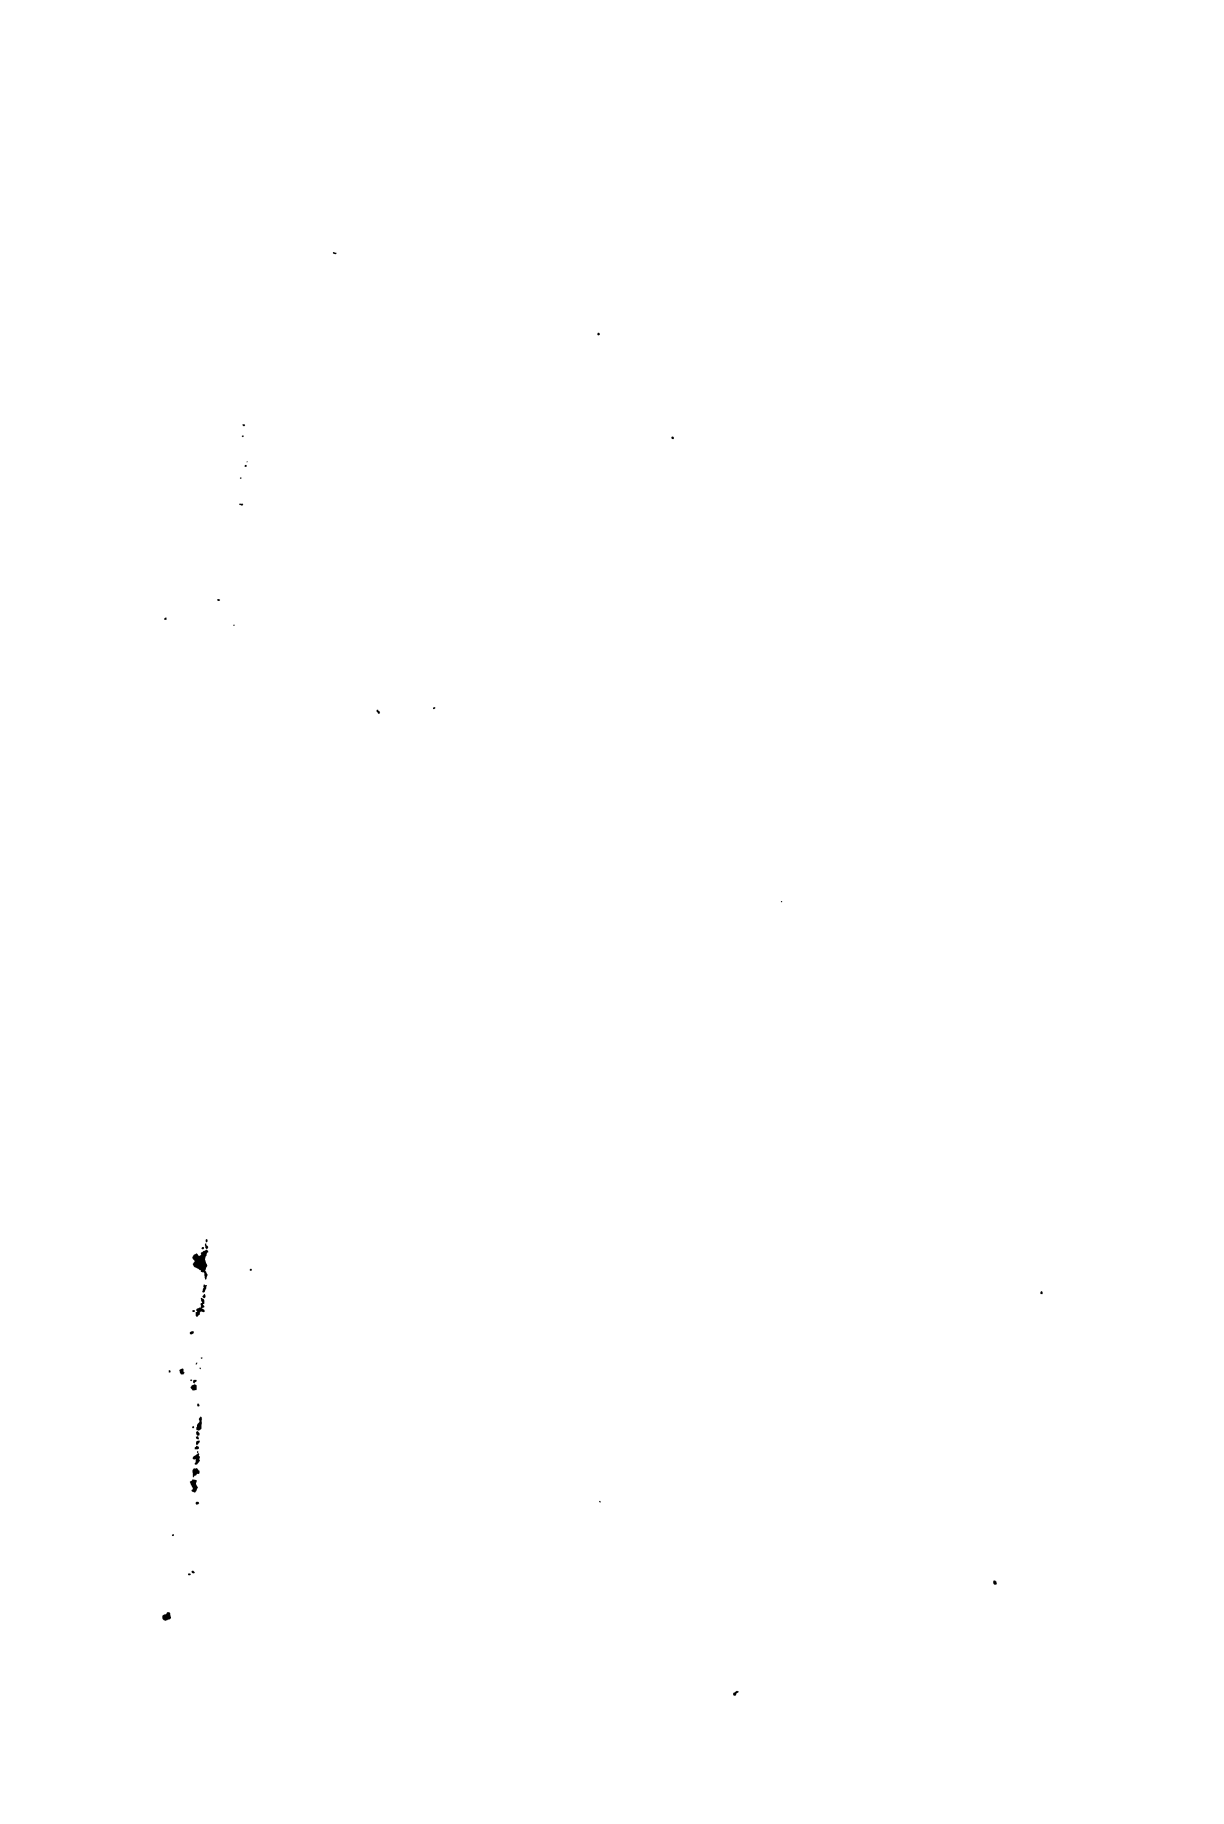

Each Volume will contain on an average Eleven Plates.

. The PLATES may be had separately at 4s. per Number, or in Octavo, to illustrate other editions of Shakspeare, at 5s. 6d. per Number.

London: Printed and Published by A. J. VALPY, Red Lion Court, Fleet Street; and sold by all Booksellers in Town and Country.
